[4] These reasons are considered only for the purpose of deciding whether to review the issue on its merits. [5] We have not determined whether this language of the statute limits our review or extends to the entire trial court record in this case. This issue is one which we need not decide because we do not reach the merits of the trial court's ruling. [6] In the written opinion of the trial court, the court stated that it was "reasonable and appropriate for the court to require plaintiff to obtain Court approved expert testimony." However, in the transcript of the hearing, the court is not clear as to the basis for its ruling. Although the record indicates that the court did have the written opinion of the court and that the trial court had asked plaintiff for an opinion about the reasonableness of retaining a vocational rehabilitation counselor, the record is ambiguous as to whether the court had before it the written opinion when the trial court made its ruling. We cannot tell whether the court based its ruling on this opinion. Because this issue is not decided on the merits, we do not address whether the written opinion of the court was in the record. [7] See State v. Baldon, 373 N.W.2d 882 (Minn.1985). [8] The record in this case does not contain the requested expert opinion of plaintiff. We do not address the issues of the sufficiency of the evidence to support the trial court's decision or the effect of that decision on the review by this court. Fnatic has now partnered with IGS Racing as its new roster, forming a team with MiSeRy, Keeper, Astralis and Alphari on the roster. IGS Racing has been a hot topic since it was revealed that the team had been looking to buy out Vitality. They are known to be a team with an incredible staff, but little to no recent results. It was not until the end of January that the team released their current roster, comprising of gla1ve, MIBR, RUBINO and stanislaw. IGS Racing has now revealed a new roster, with support from Fnatic.
